

The "One Touch" Remedy Maker (Mk3A)

Instructions for use

This latest device from White Mountain employs similar technology to the Mini Miracle but expanded to allow both remedy copying and remedy making, through the use of a single button. Built into a small case (130 x 56 x 31 mm deep) the device is fitted with two stainless steel wells 40 mm inside diameter, and an output jack.

Remedy copy function:

Place a bottle of any vibrational remedy in the input well (a Homeopathic remedy, a flower remedy, a gem remedy for example) and a bottle of blank upotentised tablets in the output well, and hold the button down for at least 3 seconds, then release the button, and your remedy has been copied, and the vibrations were also locked into the carrier material.

Remedy Make function:

Place any herb, flower or chemical in the input well, and a bottle of blank upotentised tablets in the output well, and hold the button down for at least 3 seconds, then release the button, and your remedy has been made, and the vibrations were also locked into the carrier material.

Add a Potency to a Remedy you are copying or making:

Perform either of the functions listed above but while the button is held down speak any Homeopathic Potency you want, and that will be included in the remedy you just made

Make a Remedy without any starting material:

Place a bottle of blank upotentised tablets in the output well, press the red button down and speak the name of any remedy and any homeopathic potency, holding the button down for at least 3 seconds, and your remedy is made.

Transferring a remedy directly to yourself:

Place a finger in the output well and then perform any of the functions listed above. Its Ok if someone else presses the button and speaks.

Note. When making direct copies do not speak when you push the Red button as the vibrations of anything you say will become mixed with the remedy vibrations you are copying.

Should you need a larger well at the output, you can use the supplied "Lead & Clip" to plug into the output jack on the device and clip onto a larger receptacle that you purchase yourself, such as a stainless steel or aluminum tray or bowl.

This device will accept information in any presently used language. The device also incorporates a facility which makes it possible to use it in noisy environments, such as amongst a crowd of people. In these circumstances, only the voice of the user (the person who presses the record button) will be inputted.

If the Stainless Steel Wells become dirty or tarnished, they can be cleaned using Isopropyl Alcohol and a soft tissue.

Caution: This device can be seriously damaged if placed next to permanent Magnets, electromagnets, or high voltage wiring, and we take no responsibility for the consequences.

Note: The device is unaffected by scanners and X-ray equipment at airports.

Care of the device. The Remedy Maker is not made rugged for outdoor use, it is not waterproof and the switch can easily be damaged if the device is dropped on a hard surface, so users are advised to take care.

When not being used it is recommended to store the device in a steel container, such as a cash box, toolbox, or inside a steel filing cabinet.
